

Call for Applications: Well-being Mentorship Training Program

Dear Students,

We are thrilled to announce the opening of our Wellbeing Mentorship Training Program, a unique opportunity for two exceptional students to gain in-depth knowledge and skills in the area of well-being. The program aims to prepare participants to share their insights and expertise as trainers for medical students.

This free-of-charge training taking place in Pécs, May 30-31, 2024 not only deepens your understanding of wellbeing but also offers the chance to develop your leadership and teaching skills while making a valuable contribution to the health and mental well-being of your peers.

Who Can Apply?

The application is open to all medical students; however, preferences are:

- PhD students,
- Students who have participated in or organized previous well-being programs,
- Students actively involved in research societies, thus engaging more deeply in research life,
- Students who commit to becoming trainers after completing the program.

How to apply?

Applicants are required to submit a motivation letter explaining why they wish to participate in the program and their view on the importance of well-being among medical students. Please send your application by 8 April 2024 to eva.stermenska@uniba.sk. We will evaluate the application based on the predefined set of criteria, and contact selected applicants directly.

Best Regards,

Team of the Well-being concept
